... President-Elect

Rotary Pick President For '66-'67

Richard L. Evans of Salt Lake City, Utah, was named president-elect of Rotary International here Monday at the organization's 60th convention being held in Convention Hall.

The election will place Evans as president of the international group for a one-year term beginning July 1 next year.

The previous president named last year, is C.P.H. Stra of The Netherlands. Stra will take office this July, succeeding Charles W. Pettengreen of Greenwich, Conn., the current president.

Evans is an outstanding personality with a career that has included presentation since 1938 on the program "Spoken Word" on the widely known broadcast "Music and the Spoken Word" with the Mormon Tabernacle choir and organ, each Sunday over the nation-wide network of the Columbia Broadcasting System from Salt Lake City. Evans also is the producer and writer of the program. He was born in Salt Lake City and was graduated from the University of Utah.

Evans has been a member of the Rotary Club of Salt Lake City since 1938, is a past president of that club, and has served Rotary International as vice-president, director, governor and committee chairman and member.

He has been a writer for Features Syndicate and author of 10 books published by Harper and Row in New York City. His articles have appeared in "Reader's Digest," "Coronet," "Look," "Encyclopedia Britannica," and other major publications.

Evans is a member of the Council of Twelve of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints; a member of the board of regents of the University of Utah and a past president of the alumni association; and a member of the board of trustees of Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah. In Salt Lake City he is a director of the Security Corporation, Radio Station KSL, the Union Stock and Bond Agency, and the Bountiful Bank.

A BRIEF REPORT

on the 56th Annual Convention of Rotary International 30 May-3 June, 1965—Atlantic City, New Jersey, U.S.A.

3 June, 1965

Atlantic City, New Jersey

THE ANNUAL convention of Rotary International has just ended in this resort city by the sea, and 9,368 Rotarians and their guests are turning homeward to the 64 lands they represent. Each has had a part in making this 60th anniversary gathering what its planners had hoped it would be, an adventure in international friendship, and all leave with a better understanding of the great organization that Rotary is today and with a keener sense of the opportunities which Rotary club membership provides.

The host city, with its 6½-mile-long Boardwalk flanked by surf and sand on one side and hotels and shops on the other, provided a relaxing, holiday-like setting. The convention hall accommodated with ease the House of Friendship and the plenary sessions, with room left over for many of the hundreds of smaller meetings which gave men an opportunity this week to discuss their vocations, club administration matters, Interact, and The Rotary Foundation.

Past and present officers of R.I.—593 in all—gathered at a reunion luncheon. Almost 4,700 persons gathered in seven international fellowship dinners, and a thousand guests from beyond U.S.A. borders enjoyed an evening in the homes of members of the Rotary Club of Atlantic City and eight other near-by Rotary clubs.

Rotarians of nine Rotary districts on the eastern seaboard helped Atlantic City Rotarians stage this convention, and a magnificent job they did. From the first welcome at train stations and highway posts to the final good-byes in the hotels and motels (32,000 rooms available in this city), convention-goers were made to feel genuinely welcome.

The Boardwalk became a strolling House of Friendship and a Youth Hub, too, with a warm sun and an ocean breeze adding to the attractions. It was the scene of a Monday evening parade by the Greater Bucks County (Pennsylvania) String Band, whose great feather head dresses, brilliant costumes, and stirring music thrilled youngsters and adults alike. Howard Lanin and his orchestra played for the gala President's Ball, which ended at midnight and filled a moonlit Boardwalk with ladies in long gowns and dancing slippers. Entertainment for the ladies included an afternoon with comedienne Anna Russell. On Wednesday evening the entire convention witnessed a show, "44 Wonderful Years." It portrayed highlights of the Miss America Pageant, which is televised annually to 85 million viewers in the U.S.A. Featured were stage and television personality Bert Parks, the 1965 Miss America, Vonda Kay Van Dyke, and two former Miss Americas, Maria Beale Fletcher (1962) and Marilyn Van Derbur (1958).

There were 907 guests under 16 years here, and those five days they swarmed about the Boardwalk and its amusement piers where attractions include rock-and-roll quartets and a horse that dives 45 feet into a tank of water—for a bunch of carrots.

Badges saying "Hablo Español," "Jag Talar Svenska," and other appropriate phrases helped to bridge language barriers, and songleader Walter Jenkins threw another strand across the gulf through spirited plenary session singing, augmented by Lois Miller at the great convention hall organ.

It has been, in short, a good week, highlighted by plenary sessions of variety and interest.

Sunday, 30 May

The convention hall, with its great roof arching overhead, lent an atmosphere both of awe and splendor. The thundering pipe organ filled "the world's largest room" with a sound almost overwhelming, and the presentation of the flags of Rotary nations, briskly executed by 104 youths of the Atlantic Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, added to a mood of expectation.

"If you have come—and I hope you have—to share with your fellow men a few of the unique treasures of your own personalities, this convention will prove to be a memorable one," said Ernst G. Breitholtz, of Kalmar, Sweden, chairman of the 1965 convention committee. "What you will get out of this convention depends in large measure upon the extent that you give—of yourself."

The opening words sounded a theme often repeated. The refrain was developed further in the opening remarks of President Charles W. Pettengill: "Tonight we begin an adventure in international fellowship," he said. "We continue the life-long process of learning how to live together."

Rotary will grow, he said, "as long as men enjoy the fellowship of others and are disposed toward making their personal contributions to the betterment of their communities and the world they live in. Rotary around the world is doing what it is best qualified to do. It is offering opportunities to work for worthwhile goals. . . . Sometime, beyond our life span, perhaps, the world will cease to live from crisis to crisis and enter an era when differences are settled by negotiation."

A gold medallion was presented to R.I. by Kiwanis International, which this year is observing its 50th anniversary. Charles A. Swain, of Cape May, New Jersey, U.S.A., immediate past president of Kiwanis International, said that Kiwanis was "fortunate in that it could take inspiration from the path which Rotary so well blazed. . . . We share a common goal of better living for more people in better towns and villages."

Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, a musical group now beginning its 50th season, breezed through a two-hour program of folk songs, patriotic songs, nostalgic songs, and classics-put-to-lyrics, all spiced with dancing, comedy acts, and a cheerful repartee between Waring and his group which gave one the impression that Waring's opening remark—"music was written to be enjoyed"—is taken to heart by his performers. His closing number, in which the audience joined, was Battle Hymn of the Republic, a finale which he had used in Rotary's international convention in 1949 in New York City, and which had so impressed him that he chose to repeat it here.

Hunting Club Taking Rights On Plantation

A group of St. Simons Island business and professional men is leasing hunting and fishing rights on Ivanhoe Plantation west of Woodbine.

The plantation is owned by a group of 10 local investors who purchased it eight years ago. It includes 1,200 acres on the north bank of the Satilla River, with about 1,000 acres having canals and dikes for rice farming and the other 800 acres forested.

The Golden Isles Rod and Gun Club, which will lease the hunting and fishing rights, is headed by Charles C. Gillican, president, and Dr. Mack Simmons, secretary-treasurer.

Included in the planned lease is a large club house erected by the present owners. Future plans call for building a five-acre fish pond and stocking it with blue gill and bass and designating a skeet range.

Members are being accepted in the new club until July 1 when the lease is to become effective.

New Owners of King & Prince

The King & Prince Hotel on St. Simons Island has been acquired from Alsonett Hotels of Tulsa, Okla., by general manager Gadi Timbes and attorney Ronald F. Adams.

Timbes, who has managed the hotel for the past 18 years, will be president and general manager of the new operation. Adams will serve as vice president and secretary.

Included in the acquisition, the price of which was not disclosed, is an adjacent block of land just inland where additional facilities are planned in the future.

An immediate improvement program will include construction of a 9-hole putting green adjacent to the hotel pool, imbes said.

Among existing facilities at the Spanish-style hotel occupying most of a 560-foot beach frontage are four meeting rooms with capacity for 400 persons, outdoor dining and dancing patios and two cocktail lounges.

Timbes noted that 75 per cent of his service staff has been associated with the hotel since he assumed management on June 1, 1947.

The King & Prince, constructed just before World War II, was used by the Navy during the war as a radar officers' training school.

Timbes, a native of Paden, Miss., spent four years on the staff of the Peabody Hotel, Memphis, Tenn., and then was executive assistant manager at the DeSoto Hotel in Savannah from 1941 until joining the King & Prince.

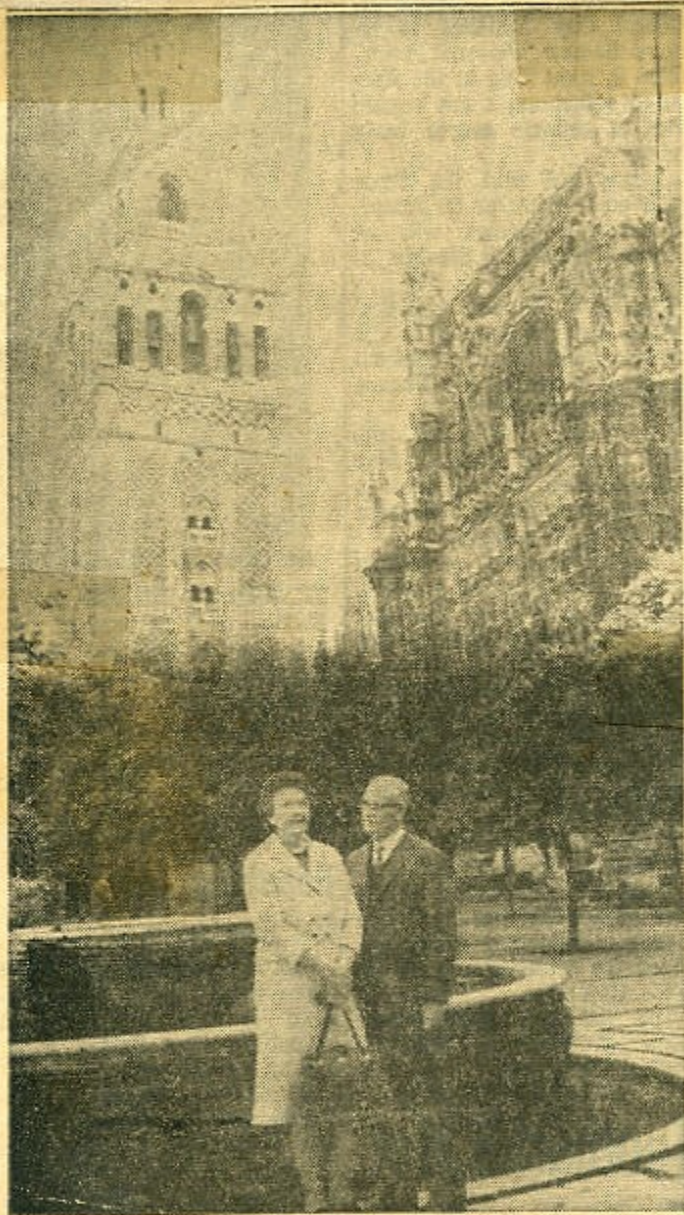

Adams, a native of Hortense, practiced law in Jesup and served as judge of the City Court there before moving to Brunswick. His wife, the former Deborah Douglas, and Timbes' wife, the former Mary Virginia Casels, were childhood neighbors in Savannah.

OBJECT OF ROTARY

The object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

1. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;
2. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society;
3. The application of the ideal of service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life;
4. The advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.
