New Member

Gary Trullinger was introduced as a new member by Barbara Chal. A native of Des Moines, Iowa, he graduated from The University of Iowa with a degree in physical therapy. In 1998, he moved to Atlanta, where he worked for three years as a director of rehab services. He received his nursing home administrator's license in 2000. In the fall of 2000, he moved to St. Simons Island and took the position of Administrator at Brian Center Inn. Welcome, Gary.

Last Week's Program (June 29, 2004)Installation of Officers*Comments by Outgoing & Incoming Presidents

Pat Donahoo presided over the installation of St. Simons Rotary Club officers for 2004-2005. He began the program by encouraging all members to get involved in club activities. "Followership" is a term I've coined, he noted. Pat added, "With chiefs and no Indians, you cannot have a successful tribe." The new officers and directors were then installed. You will find their names on the back of this issue of the Spray.

After the installation, President Mattingly presented Clyde Taylor with the past president's badge; plaque and pin. Taylor thanked the membership for a successful term and commented on the three key issues of his administration -- quality weekly meetings, membership retention, and identifying and implementing significant fund-raising activities. He further noted the club had a net membership gain of five. He specifically commented on Veterans Walk; Taps at Twilight; and the District Medical Transport Program.

Outgoing President Taylor also thanked his loyal, supporting partner, his wife Sue, for her assistance during the past year. To conclude his year, he made an "official" presentation to President Mattingly of the St. Simons Island Post Office Box key.

President Mattingly completed the program with a final gift to President Taylor of a small, hand-crafted fishing rod; tiny mesh net; and lots of jokes about Taylor's success while fishing.

Special Presentation

Prior to installation of officers, President Clyde Taylor asked Cal Paynter and Martin Worthy to come to the podium for a special presentation. At the close of his term as president, Taylor recognized both Cal and Martin for their continued devotion to club projects. Cal received funds for the Rotary Flag program. Martin's check was for the St. Simons Library Foundation's automation project.
