Lorene Reid - Executive Director – Coastal Coalition for Children

Lorene grew up in Connecticut. Her degree is from Southern Connecticut State University in New Haven, CT in the field of Special Education with a minor in English. She attended graduate school at St. Joseph's College in Hartford focusing on Psychology and Special Education.

After teaching Special Education for five years, she transitioned to “the phone company, Southern New England Telephone Company” and later transferred to AT&T. Her career at AT&T was in Sales Management and she was best known for taking on challenges and starting new ventures. While most people resist change, Lorene welcomes it.

She took an early retirement from AT&T 10 years ago and started an Executive Search firm on the island, Management Recruiters of St. Simons Island. The business was successful but talking on the phone and never seeing people face to face was not a good job match for her, so she closed the business and was drafted into the non-profit world. She has been with the Coastal Coalition for Children, Inc. for five years and loves the daily challenges of running a diverse and worthwhile organization, one that ‘gives back’ to the community.

Lorene has been a resident of St. Simons Island for 10 years, a Rotarian (St. Simons Island Marshes of Glynn- board of directors), an Elder at St. Simons Presbyterian Church Chairing Global Mission, Community In Schools, board of directors, etc.
