Communities in Schools of Glynn County
Luke Fennell
Executive Director

Gary Schwartz introduced Luke Fennell. Luke was born in Vermont, grew up in Prince George's County, MD and moved to St. Simons Island from Washington, D.C./Northern Virginia in 2005. Luke has served as Teacher, Assistant Principal, Junior High School Principal and High School Principal during his career. His greatest honor is having the football stadium at Thomas A. Edison High School in Fairfax County, VA named in his honor in 2003.

The Community in Schools of Glynn County is part of a national organization dedicated to drop-out prevention and increased graduations. The organization just finished its second year of operation. In Glynn County, work is done at a non-traditional high school, The Southside Performance Learning Center. Mr. Fennell during his presentation discussed a number of objectives and activities, including the credit recovery program and grade 8.5. A booklet, the 2006 Report Card for Glynn County was made available and discussed at length.

Get involved in the program by making a financial donation and/or volunteering your time. Contact the organization at 912-554-0649.

Upcoming Programs
