Object of Rotary

The Object of Rotary is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

First

The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

Second

High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying of each Rotarian's occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

Third

The application of the ideal of service in each Rotarian's personal, business, and community life;

Fourth

The advancement of international understanding, goodwill, and peace through a world of business and professional persons united in the ideal of service

The Four-Way Test of the things we think, say or do

1. Is it the truth?
2. Is it fair to all concerned?
3. Will it build goodwill and better friendships?
4. Will it be beneficial to all concerned?

Last Week's Program: September 11, 2012 Heather Whitestone McCallum Miss America, 1995

The person who said, "beauty is only skin deep," lied. We saw it for ourselves at our last luncheon when the lovely Heather McCallum graced our podium with eloquent, inspiring words about her life and experiences as a former Miss America.

Hailing from Dothan, Alabama, Heather Whitestone became the nation's first Miss America with a disability, in her case, profound deafness. The crown has never been the same since. Heather opened the doors for the disabled on many levels as a motivational speaker and advocate for those who are challenged by their physical limitations. It's clear that Heather's deafness has never kept her back, but instead, challenged her for greatness on many fronts. The mother of three sons, Heather has authored three books and has extensively traveled the nation and the world. She has been a board member for numerous organizations, has spoken at the 1996 and 2000 Republican National Convention, and has been seen on many nationally televised programs as a spokesperson for the disabled.

When asked by the judges of the 1995 Miss American Pageant, "How do you handle your disability?" she answered quickly, "The same way you handle yours," meaning that each of us has limitations and challenges that we must deal with in our life's journey.

Her S.T.A.R.S motivational program is based upon building on the recognition of one's strengths. Her 5 point program for personal success includes: 1. Have a positive attitude 2. Be willing to work hard 3. Believe in yourself 4. Face your problems 5. Build a support team – you can't do it alone.

A long list of personal successes and experiences includes an exhausting trip to Afghanistan to support the troops, along with five former Miss Americas several years ago. Her reflections on that experience were enlightening, especially since the day of this presentation coincided with the 11th anniversary of 9/11.

Thank you Heather Whitestone McCallum for making us all feel good about being an American. You are certainly a wonderful example of one of our nation's finest.

God bless Miss America!
